

NGO HEALTH COMMITTEE PRESENTS

FORCED MIGRATION: A PANDEMIC

HEALTH CARE

FOR THE

DISPLACED

SPEAKERS

JENNIFER SCHLECHT, LMSW, MPH

Senior Program Officer at Women's Refugee Commission, focuses on Women's Health. Leads WRC maternal health and emergency preparedness initiatives. Extensive work with conflict-affected populations in Sudan, Thailand, Tanzania, Uganda, Colombia and Lebanon.

CATHERINE PANTER-BRICK, MA, MSC, D.PHIL

Yale University – Professor of Anthropology, holds appointment in School of Public Health and Institute for Global Affairs. Directs Program on Conflict, Resilience and Health at Institute for International Studies. Research and publications focus on children and youth; evaluation projects and research in Africa, Asia and Middle East.

JOHN SOLECKI, SENIOR POLICY ADVISOR

United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees, Liaison Office in New York

MODERATOR:

PAULA DUNN TROPELLO, RN, FNP-BC, EdD
Dean, School of Nursing, Wagner College

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 21, 2015
4:00 – 6:00 PM

777 United Nations Plaza
10TH floor Church Center for the UN
(44TH st. & 1ST ave.)

WWW.NGOHEALTHCOMMITTEE.ORG

CO-SPONSORS:

International Health Awareness Network
New York University College of Nursing
Armenian Relief Society

UN Grounds Pass Not Required

PARTNER

